South Hill Park

From Stately Home to Arts Centre:

The History of South Hill Park Exhibition

Long Gallery
Permanent Exhibition

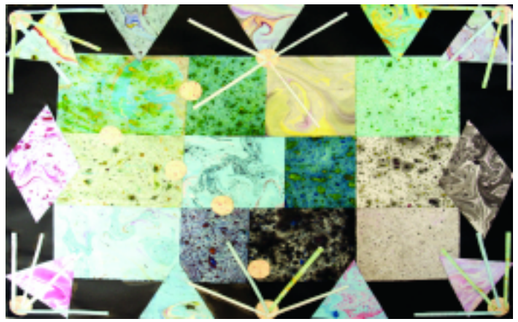

South Hill Park was originally built in 1760 and remodelled in the 1890s. Past residents have included a British Prime Minister and maybe even a few ghosts. It was used as a hospital during World War II and has even been owned by the BBC. Come and explore the fascinating history of your local stately home.

Arts and Minds

Community Gallery

South Hill Park is proud to exhibit artwork created by patients of the West London Mental Health NHS Trust. This work has been created as part of a wide range of purposeful activities in the trust's adult education centre, occupational therapy units and wards. Creative pursuits such as arts and crafts have a proven therapeutic benefit for people living with mental illness.

Season on Surveillance and Contemporary Art

Conspiracy Dwellings: A Portrait of a Model City

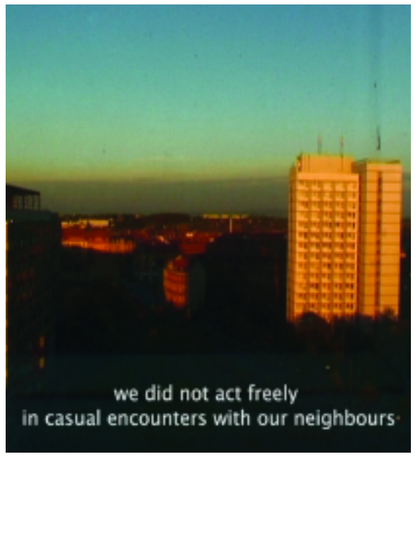

by Pam Skelton with invited contributions from C.CRED, Tina Clausmeyer and Verena Kyselka

Bracknell Gallery

The Bracknell Gallery has new opening hours. See the Directions and Times page.

Conspiracy Dwellings explores a dossier from the State Archive of the German Democratic Republic (GDR). The project identifies the 483 secret meeting places that were active in Erfurt in the 80s. Overall, the GDR employed 100,000 agents and 200,000 informers. Conspiracy Dwellings explores the city and its public life and considers how its history is understood in the context of the present. Conspiracy Dwellings Symposium

18 January 2008, 11am - 5pm

The symposium explores the ways which contemporary art has addressed the issues associated with state control, surveillance, past and present at a time of uncertainty when global terrorism highlights its controversial status. The invited speakers include Pam Skelton and Verena Kyselka.

The booking fee of £12 includes lunch and coffee/tea. Call to book: 0134 4484123 by 10 January 2008. The symposium is sponsored by Arts Council England.

Rescued Items

by Greg Daville

Atrium and Mirror Gallery

We store information at home, work and as society. Rescued Items from Babel represents self-portraits in staged environments of stored information in order to explore the failings and aspirations of visual, verbal, and written communication and as a metaphor for the human condition with regard to planning, self-sabotage, and aspiration. The exhibition also presents work from the Urbicide series that reconstructs suburban architecture as a means of exploring the uniformity of contemporary life.

Greg Daville has widely exhibited in the UK and abroad. His recent work focuses on digitally manipulated photography.

Free ARC Talk by the artist on 13 December, 6.30pm.

Surveillance

Mirror Gallery and Atrium Projection Space

Surveillance is an international, mixed media group exhibition, including Cally Trench, Mike Stubbs, Justin Wiggan, Carl Rohumaa and Monica Heller.

The artists address a range of questions exploring surveillance from political, visual, technical and social viewpoints.

Surfacing

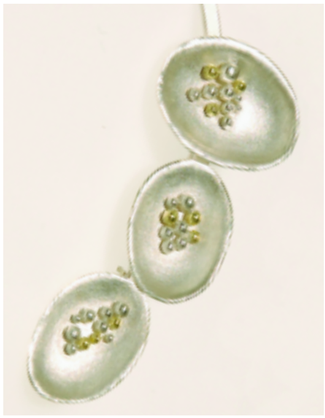

by Hannah Bedford

Tall Hall

Artist's Residencies at South Hill Park offer an opportunity for technical exploration and developing new work in a supportive environment. This exhibition showcases Hannah Bedford's new collection of bespoke jewellery. It explores surface decoration in precious metals such as fine gold fusing and granulation, expressing new qualities that she has developed and refined over the last two years.
